Futuro Houses™

Futuro is Now!

Futuro Houses are the next generation in self-sustainable housing with futuristic designs offering luxurious living. These houses are environmentally friendly and self-sustaining, perfect for living off-grid in remote areas or in a residential area, making money renting as a vacation home, or its perfect for using for a retail store or office.

Futuro Houses are available as a basic shell kit with metal base or fully designed home complete with two (2) bedrooms, bath, kitchen, dining and living areas. Fully designed homes come with multiple options for water conservation, storage, usage, and waste disposal, electric and energy saving systems, heating, and cooling. The door/staircase operates remotely to lower and raise the steps.

Futuro Houses are modular houses employing advanced technology in fiberglass composite construction and marine-grade gelcoat for a high gloss exterior finish. The Futuro Houses molded fiberglass shell construction has absolutely no wood - nothing to rot or mold, making it resistant to bugs and termites. These homes are lighter, stronger, and smarter than most traditional dwellings.

Futuro Houses can be easily assembled and come complete with:

- 24 individual pie pieces for the top & bottom
- 12 interior pie floor pieces
- 12 intermediate pieces with 12 windows
- Base ring with 3 legs
